Organization Description and History

The mission of Seacoast Family Promise (SFP) is to empower families with children experiencing homelessness to achieve sustainable independence through a community-based response. SFP provides safe family shelter in clean and welcoming environments on a transitional basis while families become stabilized, and provides intensive case support and life skills training to each family.

Born as a grassroots effort, SFP became a New Hampshire 501(c)3 in 2001 and is an affiliate of the national Family Promise. All fundraising however, is conducted at the local level. Replicating Family Promise's "neighbor helping neighbor" model, SFP has built a network of over 1,600 trained and background-checked community volunteers who provide mentoring, homework assistance, evening meals, and an evening place for families to rest and regroup for their next day. Until recent, SFP's model also leveraged relationships with 24 underutilized faith communities who donated their buildings as safe overnight shelter for SFP's families.

During the day, families arrive at SFP's main campus, known as "The Day Center", where professional staff provide families with the critical resources necessary to get them back on their feet. SFP's services include intensive and customized case management; medical, dental and mental health referrals; and employment and training resources. Families are required to study financial planning, budgeting, and savings management; are provided with parenting classes and literacy training for infants through age five; and are offered nutrition education. SFP also acts as a liaison with local schools to ensure that youth experiencing homelessness can maintain and optimize their education.

Currently SFP serves either 5 families or 14 individuals at one time meaning that families receive very customized support during their engagement with SFP. In 2019 alone, SFP served a total of 60 families (214 total individuals). Since its inception, SFP has served 267 families comprised of 841 individuals. Of those served, 347 have been adults and 494 have been children under the age of 18, with 256 of those children being under the age of five years. SFP has successfully placed 100% of families with children back into the community in-tact for 6 consecutive years. Over the past 16 years, 90% of the families served by SFP have remained housed and stable. On average, families enrolled in the SFP program spend 89 nights with SFP before their successful placement in permanent housing. It is important to note that SFP continues to make its case management available to all families who transition out of the program (known as Home Again).

SFP is led by an active board of directors who support the program financially at 100% and who spend countless hours serving as ambassadors for the organization. SFP's staff includes an Executive Director, Case Manager, Development Coordinator, and three former parents who are employed as part-time weekend support and grounds maintenance crewmembers. In response to the current crisis, SFP now also employs three overnight case managers.

- o Program's impact on Exeter residents

The greatest impact on existing Exeter residents is that Seacoast Family Promise is helping build a safer, stronger community for them to live in.

Stable families will find employment, housing, obtain medical health coverage, mental health counseling, learn money management, have children who attend local schools, are enthusiastic about academics and take part in activities such as sports, music, theatre, cheerleading, art, etc. They will attend local faith communities and become consumers.

- o Program changes and/or highlights from the past year

In 2020 Seacoast Family Promise completed the exterior of the Day Center building and purchased the adjacent building located at 26 Hampton Road, converting it into two affordable housing condominiums.

Seacoast Family Promise has invested over $550,000 in repairs to the two buildings on Hampton Road.

Seacoast Family Promise envisions a community in which every family has a home, a livelihood, and the foundation on which to build a better future together

A Message of Hope

As we reflect on 2019, we first must thank our faith communities, over 1,500 volunteers, and the many stakeholders, and business partners who believe in our mission and have stood with us whether in 2019, or during our past 18 years as we have served families with children experiencing homelessness. We continue to focus on developing programs and services that help provide a permanent and secure home for all.

And the statistics in this report show that our programs are working. We also acknowledge a hopeful note in the most recent study from the New Hampshire Coalition to End Homelessness, which shows both a slight improvement in homelessness statistics, as well as new funding sources approved by legislative policymakers that acknowledge the need for additional investment in housing and homeless services.

This past year, Seacoast Family Promise continued to embrace its core mission through the purchase of adjacent property at 25 Hampton Road, Exeter that allows us to provide permanent supportive housing to two families who have succeeded in our program or are recommended by partner agencies and meet our application requirements. Through a network of volunteers and local professionals, the property was renovated into two condominiums. Our first tenant, a former guest of the program, recently moved in and when we knocked on the door to welcome her, she tearfully welcomed us with, “I never imagined I would live in such a beautiful home—I love it!”

Other highlights included our June fundraising event, the “The Swing for Seacoast” Golf Tournament at the Pease Golf Course, and our November “Appreciation Celebration” at The Tuscan Kitchen to celebrate both our mission and our loyal supporters. We are also grateful for the continued partnership with RiverWoods as we plan for the next Gala.

All help support our talented staff and the daily services they provide to current families at our beautiful Day Center, as well as a full range of services we offer to our former families through a comprehensive “Home Again” post program. Finally, with lack of transportation being the number one reason for poverty in this country, we continue to distribute in-good-condition donated vehicles to ensure that our families have the means to dependably commute to work and school.

At present, we are all living in an extremely difficult time of uncertainty given the COVID-19 Virus. We look ahead with more questions than answers as we make plans for our future, but we remain hopeful. At Seacoast Family Promise we thrive on “hopeful.” Our families show us every day what it means to live with uncertainty but remain focused and hopeful for a better future. Seacoast Family Promise exists for times like these. The effects of our shared efforts continue to provide a stronger, healthier community for everyone—even in times of pandemic. And together we continue to hope and see the light and better times ahead.

With good wishes of health and happiness to your families,

Irv Canner, President

Judy George, Vice President

A Note from the Director

Seacoast Family Promise certainly came a long way in 2019. Providing comprehensive solutions for families with children experiencing homelessness. Families come to us in crisis; our approach of family-centered, trauma informed care and coordinated compassion helps them rebuild their lives with new skills and ongoing support. Once again last year, we placed 100% of our families in sustainable housing and our all-time non-recidivism rate remains at 90%.

We firmly believe that families need to remain together during what is one of the most difficult times of their lives. To that end we engage over 1,700 volunteers annually who work with staff to ensure that the level of care and support given to our families is the best it can be.

Our, Home Again, post shelter program continues to grow as more former families find the need to have continuing supportive services. We have developed a diversion protocol to encourage families to identify safe housing options based on their own resources, allowing them to avoid the shelter system when possible.

In 2019, Seacoast Family Promise had four former guest teens graduate from college, three mothers graduated from college as well and we are looking forward to seeing those numbers grow in 2020. The program runs on a very tight budget and for every dollar raised, we receive $3.00 in in-kind services from our volunteers, businesses, schools and organizations. This kind of community involvement and support is not often found and has proven to be a strong model for creating healthy, thriving communities for all.

Don't be deceived by all of the good news. The need for our services continues to be great but we feel so privileged to be on the front lines, helping where and when we can. Personally, I feel fortunate to have had good staffers over the past 16 years. People who are dedicated to the well-being of friends and neighbors, residents and the hundreds of children who need to look toward a better future full of hope and prosperity.

Thank you, are two small words that mean so much to Seacoast Family Promise. We don't just say it to be polite but rather because you all deserve our thanks for the unending support and love that you have given over the years. You have been transformative.

With sincere respect and admiration for you all,

Pati Frew-Waters, Executive Director
