 Medium amount of walking
potential for stairs and uneven ground

August 3, 2026

Description: Join us on a trip into Boston to view The Heart of New England in the Boston Museum of Sciences Omni IMAX Theater. The Omni theater is a giant dome screen designed to fully immerse viewers. The Heart of New England is a documentary featuring locations all throughout New England from fragile ecosystems in the Gulf of Maine to the Heart of Boston. On the trip, we will stop for a lunch before the showing at Cafe Beatrice which features a wide variety of sandwiches, salads and pastries. We will then take a 10 minute walk through the city to reach the museum of science. Transportation will be provided and we will depart from the Exeter community center at 10am on August 3rd, returning around 4pm.

Full Film Summary: Discover what draws life here from nearly everywhere and why this tiny corner of the country has an outsized global impact that thrives through collaboration and diversity of thought. Come face-to-face with some of the most remarkable creatures inhabiting the Gulf of Maine and see how wild landscapes and fragile ecosystems – once on the brink – have the power to heal. Get a behind-the-scenes peek into what's been called "the most innovative square mile in the country." You'll also get to know several runners in the Boston Marathon: a Panawahpskek mother, daughter, and grandfather telling a story of Indigenous resilience, and a dancer determined to give back to the city that saved her life.
